Embodying the rich history of tea, matcha (抹茶) is made from shade-grown tea leaves. The leaves, once harvested through a meticulous process, are left to dry, be de-veined and de-stemmed, and artfully ground into a fine powder. These high grade tea leaves are known to be rich in antioxidants, vitamins, and minerals. We here at matcha seek to put in the same kind of care and attention into brewing, creating, and mixing excellent drinks. We prioritize the quality of our ingredients and the integrity of our process to make sure we uphold our namesake.
